Challenges

- Regional and cross-regional projects have proven to be less efficient than national projects: less focused, more project management challenges and over-sized consortia
- Lack of synergies between different CBHE projects (and with other funded Erasmus+ initiatives) within the same institution
- Insufficient involvement of decision-makers and national authorities (especially for Structural Projects) in many projects
- Sustainability of project results often not sufficiently addressed by the consortia due to low project ownership by project partners
- Accreditation can take a long time and does not allow the running of degree programmes within the eligibility period of the CBHE project
